

January/February 2024

COUPLES' CONNECTION

Our time in East Africa has had many twists, turns, and unexpected ministry opportunities. For example, since we arrived in Nairobi about five years ago, we have discovered a certain ministry niche as we have ministered in our local church. The particular group of people that we find ourselves working with on a consistent basis are young Kenyan couples. These young people are looking for older couples to walk with them as they navigate through dating, engagement, and the early years of marriage. In a church that averages around 400 in attendance on Sunday mornings, Tammy and I have discovered that we have probably been married longer than any Kenyan couple in the church (36 years)! Therefore, many young couples are asking for our help and counsel in regards to their relationships. This has involved pre-marital counseling, post-marital counseling, and many other times of non-formal conversations about marriage and family matters. It has been our joy to encourage these dear folks. Please pray for them as they grow in their knowledge of God and in their interpersonal relationships.

Our time in East Africa has had many twists, turns, and unexpected ministry opportunities. For example, since we arrived in Nairobi about five years ago, we have discovered a certain ministry niche as we have ministered in our local church. The particular group of people that we find ourselves working with on a consistent basis are

Here are pictures of just a few of these couples.