Dear Family and Friends,

Galatians 6:9 And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

Often Christians get discouraged by the lack of results. We tend to judge everything by what we can see or measure. In our Churches we feel the pressure to perform, but can I encourage you to just "keep on keeping on". God is working in hearts even when we do not see it. Our part in God's plan is to be faithful to His service and allow Him to use us. We long to see more people trust Christ as their Saviour, to see Christians grow in their walk with the Lord, but if we grow weary and get discouraged in the work and give up then we are sure not to see a harvest for the Lord.

Over the last couple of months, we have been busy with activities at Church, my parents visiting, and the Bible Institute students being here for 3 weeks. I taught a week of classes and Pastor Guy Bankston taught the other weeks of classes. The class I taught was Homiletics, we had 5 days of classes for 2 hours a day and they had 4 hours of homework each day. We covered a lot of material in a short time. While here the students taught kids classes and sang special music at Church. We also did a Good Friday activity for our junior kids. I taught a Bible lesson about the Crucifixion and Resurrection and the students ran games for the kids. It was a great evening.

My parents came for six weeks, and it was a blessing to have them here with us. We took them to Milford Sound on the South Island and all I have to say about that trip is that it was a lot of driving to get there, but it was worth it. The memories we made with them are special to me. The highlight of those memories is my dad's desire to share with people the Gospel message. He personally handed out over 50 Gospel tracts on that trip, and that was hard to do with all the driving we did. I had him share his salvation testimony at Church and it was a blessing to our Church family. I am truly blessed to have a mother and father who love God and are still faithfully serving Him.

Please continue to pray for my neighbor kids: Chance, Ashton, Reagan, and Rikkilee. April 15th -19th in the North Island teen camp and Ashton will be attending. We are praying that the messages will speak to his heart and that he will trust Christ as his Saviour.

Serving Him,
Jerry and Dawn Judd
